Commissioner Race Creating Interest Here

4 From Each Party Out After 2 Vacancies; Sheriff Contested

Pickaway County's May 4 primary election will find two vacant seats in the county commissioners' office the main political battleground as four Democrats and four Republicans vie for nomination to those posts.

While 10 of the 20 prospective nominees will appear on the ballots unopposed, the only other battle for nomination will be in the sheriff's office where Charles Radcliff, incumbent, and Ralph Wallace face each other on the Democratic ticket.

No options or bond issues will appear on Tuesday's ballot, county election officials reported.

The two vacancies for county commissioner appear with the expiration of terms for John Keller and Wayne Hoover, both Democrats. Keller is seeking reelection while Hoover chose not to run again.

Thumbnail sketches on each of the candidates to appear on Tuesday's Pickaway County ballot follow:

COMMISSIONER

Keller, the Democrat incumbent, is completing his 12th year in office. He is a native of Ross County. A Scioto Township farmer, Keller is a member of Scioto Township board of trustees and township board of education.

Harry T. Reese, Republican—A native of Pickaway County and employed as a vegetable plant grower. He is a defeated candidate for county commissioner last term. Reese is president of the Harrison Township board of trustees.

Ross Straley, Republican—County native making his first appearance for nomination to a county office. Straley is an independent farmer and a member of the Deer Creek Township board of trustees.

Fred E. Moeller, Republican—Native of Hamilton County and a former Cincinnati school teacher. Moeller is a vegetable grower making his first bid for a Pickaway County office.

Rail Mediation Board Ponders Possible Strike

CHICAGO, April 29—The National Railway Mediation Board went into session today with representatives of three railroad brotherhoods in a vital move to sidetrack a nation-wide railroad strike set by two unions for May 11.

The board session with the unions opened on an optimistic note as far as President Truman is concerned. He said in Washington he believes the board will be successful in averting the threatened walk-out.

Two of the three operating brotherhood unions involved in the strike, the firemen and engineers and the switchmen, issued formal strike notices for May 11 from their Chicago headquarters.

The third union, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, did not join in the strike notice, but the union's vice-president, J. P. Shields, said all three brotherhoods would walk out together.

SHIELDS said his union probably would hold up its statement until after the mediation board meeting.

Mediation Board Chairman Frank Douglass said today's labor-management meeting was called in an attempt to reach an agreement.

Schools Ponder Skirt Lengths

COLUMBUS, April 29—The New Look in skirts came under official scrutiny of Columbus high school faculty advisors today.

North, South and West high school advisors decided the new look was OK for graduation dresses—in moderation.

South's advisors recommended skirt hems 13 inches from the floor. West and North urged "moderation," which was defined as skirts not too short or too long.

Said South's principal, C. L. Dumaree:

"We definitely are not trying to prescribe what the girls are to wear, but we believe that they will look better as they walk across the stage if there is some uniformity in skirt lengths."

Truman OKs Newest UMT

Modified Program Still Said 'Weak'

WASHINGTON, April 29—President Truman said today that he will accept the proposed compromise on Universal Military Training, but exhibited some reluctance in doing so.

The chief executive said the compromise is acceptable to him in view of the fact that it looks like that all that Congress will approve at this time.

He said that the country vitally needs an adequate defense program, which includes his repeated recommendations for UMT.

The compromise would combine the draft with UMT, giving youths 18 to 19 and one-half years of age a year's training with the regular armed forces instead of the two years required for selectees.

AT THE SAME time, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall backed Defense Chief James Forrestal's "compromise" preparedness budget but told Congress the Army would need an extra $2 billion to reach a "comparable basis" with the Air Force and Navy.

Royall gave his estimate of the additional requirement in reply to questions before the Senate appropriations committee considering added funds for a 70-group Air Force.

The Army secretary made it clear that he was not requesting the added two billion $8 million dollars. Royall said:

Reds Threaten To Shoot Down American Flag

VIENNA, April 29—U. S. officials revealed today that Soviet sailors threatened to shoot down the American flag from an American excursion steamer which went aground in the Danube.

The incident occurred when the Steamer Stadt Passau broke an oil line and drifted ashore on the Soviet side of the river near Linz last night. Russian soldiers arrested crew members who went ashore for aid.

At 4 a. m. today, a Soviet naval party boarded the ship and demanded that the American flag be lowered. When a U. S. sergeant in charge refused, the Russians threatened to shoot the flag down but reconsidered.

At 10:30 a. m. today, the arrested Americans were released. They were allowed to free the ship from the sandbar but were given no Russian assistance.

UN 'Fumbling' Given Lashing

LONDON, April 29—Archbishop of York, the Rev. Cyril F. Garbett, warned today that "delaying tactics and nerveless fumbling of the United Nations" will lead to a "horrible tragedy" in Palestine.

He said that immediate action must be taken by the UN to bring peace to the Holy Land. The archbishop declared that the chief causes of Britain's failure in the Holy Land were "the crimes of terrorists and hostility of the Jewish Agency."

Farm Worker Placing Plan To Get Underway Here Monday

Walton Spangler, of Ashville Route 1, has been named to head the Pickaway County farm placement program which will begin operations Monday under the direction of the local Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Announcement of the program, which is designed to recruit qualified farm labor to meet both year-round and seasonal farm labor demands, was made Thursday by C. C. Thomas, Pickaway County manager.

The farm placement director, appointed by Thomas, will render the same labor placement service to farmers which the Ohio bureau has been doing for industries in past years. Spangler's job will be to call on all farmers in the county and help them secure the help they need, Thomas declared.

The plan, which actually took effect Jan. 1, was taken over by the Ohio State Employment Service to set up local directors to help guide workers into labor shortage areas.

Purpose of the farm placement program is to "organize, provide and maintain an identifiable plan; provide data for local and national agricultural research; and disseminate crop and work opportunity information to migratory workers."

Thomas declared the plan to be a solution to one of Ohio agriculture's primary problems—

"to provide necessary labor to meet farm demands."

He said the program will affect not only crop producers, but poultry and livestock raisers as well as canning, freezing, preserving, cold storage and warehousing workers.

"While the program will be a boon to the some 2,037 farmers in Pickaway County who have under cultivation well over 232,000 acres of crop land, the real magnitude of the program is realized when we look at the overall state figures", Thomas stated.

In the state, there are $15 billion invested in land and buildings and more than $160 million in equipment. Ohio supports a farm population of 1,100,000 on 223,000 farm units on which 22,000,000 acres of land are under cultivation.

Thomas said the placement program will provide a guidepost to the thousands of migratory Mexicans and Puerto Ricans who pass through annually working seasonal crops.

"From our figures," he said, "we will be able to direct the imported laborers into other shortage areas to help meet immediate needs there."

Experts are predicting for 1948 a substantially smaller farm labor force than in 1940 while the demand for farm products are increasing because of increased consumption at home and abroad.

Committee Frowns On New Truce

Foreign Troops Blamed For War

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 29—The Arab Higher Committee today announced it would boycott any police forces sent into Jerusalem by the United Nations to enforce a truce.

Jamal El Hussein, spokesman for the Palestine Arab body, made this clear to the trusteeship council in commenting on the French proposal that 1,000 armed men, internationally recruited, be dispatched for the Holy City's protection.

He stated: "If such a force is sent against our will, we shall not shoot at them and we will not resist them. But we will not cooperate either."

"We know that it is the beginning of partition. First there will be 1,000 troops—then there will come 10,000. We will never cooperate with them because it is the beginning of an international force—a foreign army."

"FOREIGN troops in the past have caused all our trouble. These troops could not keep the peace."

Hussein said it did not matter whether these UN troops were called "police" or "troops." He said the Arabs cannot rely on promises that they will not be used for political purposes.

Moshe Shertok of the Jewish Agency demanded the immediate dispatch of UN forces to protect the approaches to Jerusalem in keeping with the walled city truce.

The Jewish Agency spokesman asked for contingents from various governments on the ground that volunteers cannot be organized by May 16.

The exchange of words came as house-to-house street battles broke out in flaming Jaffa despite a British threat of new air action unless the Jews call off their assault.

New British reinforcements were brought up to the Jaffa region in an effort to stem the Jews, who stepped up their attacks after a lull during the night.

Coincident with the new Jaffa fighting, another Arab prison break occurred in Jerusalem.

Veterans Given Bonus Rulings

COLUMBUS, April 29—Ohio veterans were warned today of a number of regulations covering the receipt and payment of World War II bonus checks.

Assistant Bonus Director Courtney E. Kirby cautioned veterans that the only legal endorsement of a bonus check is by the veteran receiving it.

In case the veteran can not write, his "X" must be witnessed by two persons who sign their names and addresses.

Kirby pointed out that the checks may be cashed at par value only within 60 days after receipt.

Where the check cannot be delivered to the veteran it must be given to postal authorities for return to the World War II compensation fund in Columbus.

However if the veteran died before endorsing his check, the next of kin may place their claim after sending it back to Columbus.

Untidy Debut

CINCINNATI, April 29—The Pennsylvania railroad's new 6,000 horsepower diesel engine made a sad botch of its first round trip from Harrisburg, Pa., to Cincinnati early today when it jumped the rails, carrying 11 freight cars with it.

Pair Flunks Lie Tests

Cops Hold Trio In Reuther Case

DETROIT, April 29—Detroit police today jailed two men who "flunked" a lie detector grilling into their rental of a red Ford car a few hours before the shotgun ambush of CIO-UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

A third suspect, described as an associate of the two already held, was questioned as police concentrated on this latest turn in the search for Reuther's assailant.

A red Ford sedan, which neighbors saw speeding away from the Reuther home immediately after the shotgun attack, has been the only tangible clue available to police.

Chief of Detectives Jack Harvill said the two men were given lie detector tests last night, and added the results were "not satisfactory." He refused to identify the two new suspects, but indicated they were not union men.

THE PAIR was taken into custody following a thorough police check of car rentals.

Detective Inspector Joseph Krug, head of the special investigation squad, said the men claimed they had been attempting to track down Reuther's assailant themselves. Krug quoted the pair as saying they had gone to the UAW offices to inquire if the $100,000 reward offer made by the union was bona fide.

The latest development in the investigation came as Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy announced that the "new lead" is based on information supplied independently by two different sources. He added police expect to have the two persons named in the tips in custody "within a few days."

Panel Approves DP Immigration

WASHINGTON, April 29—The House judiciary committee ended a three-year legislative log jam and voted to admit 200,000 displaced persons to the United States from Europe during the next two years.

The committee reported out a bill authorizing the admittance of war refugees from the American, British and French zones of Germany and Austria and from Italy, effective upon enactment of the legislation.

It was the first such affirmative action taken in Congress since termination of the war. The bill represented a compromise for the Stratton bill, which called for the admittance of 400,000 DPs over a four-year period.

Envoy Named

PARIS, April 29—Yves Chatagnieu, former governor general of French Morocco, was named today as new French ambassador to Russia.

IN A FREAK ACCIDENT in New York involving three cars and a bus, 16 persons were injured before the vehicles came to stops. A car driven by Gordon Johnson glanced off another and rammed the auto above into a bus. Two women occupants of the crumpled sedan, Ruth Segal and Doris Davenport, were injured. At bottom (right) is a victim's shoe.

Manslaughter Cases Head List Before Grand Jury

Eight cases are scheduled to come before the May term Pickaway County grand jury when the 15-member panel convenes Monday in the common pleas courtroom.

An indictment for grand larceny will be sought against Emerson Cain, 19, of Pickaway Township. The youth was placed under $1,000 bond when accused of stealing nearly $100 worth of money and jewelry from the Edward Kreisel farm residence early in April.

Americas Seen Lowering Bans

BOGOTA, April 29—The Inter-American conference resolved today to abolish passport and visa requirements for citizens of Western Hemisphere countries.

The resolution is expected to be implemented by a series of agreements permitting nationals of any American state to visit any other American state on presentation of an identity card.

Economically, however, the breach between the United States and many of the other American republics widened.

At issue is a resolution, backed by the U. S., to provide guarantees for foreign investors against expropriation.

American delegates argued that unless such guarantees are made foreign capital will hesitate to invest in Latin America. But a bloc of countries led by Mexico and Venezuela opposed the clause.

These countries argued that national legislatures must be left a free hand to act as they wish.

Carpenters Cut Rates In Half

FOSTORIA, April 29—You could put up a five-room frame house in Fostoria for $900 less today than you could yesterday.

That word comes from Business Agent H. L. Dixon of the AFL Carpenters' union, who announced the union's 31 members had dropped their pay scale from $2.30 to one dollar an hour to help lick the housing shortage.

Dixon said the old rate would stick on repair work or labor on industrial or brick buildings.

Kiernan's ONE MAN'S OPINION

There is testimony that civilization is wallowing in a quicksand of luxury. Raymond Duncan claims too many people sleep on mattresses and Sam Goldwyn finds that money is the root of all feeble pictures.

In Tokyo, city employees are demanding a bonus for getting married and the Indians of Central Arizona are clamoring for wattage in their wigwags.

There is no telling where all this will lead but we are willing to go if there is air conditioning, television and a delicatessen.

But it becomes more evident every day that while creature comforts are improving the creatures are not.

Imagine demanding 10 thousand yen to get married! There was a time one yen was enough for anybody. Of course I haven't seen the brides.

Jailed numerous times for drunkenness, Wilson was booked by police as having residence at the jail.

At his hearing Wednesday night, Mayor Thurman I. Miller looked at Wilson in an exasperated manner as he heard the man ask for another chance to "make good," gave Wilson his condolences and a $100 and costs fine on him for habitually being drunk.

Tears Up East Side Of Court

Work on the east side of North Court street, in the 200 block, began Thursday as Circleville service department workers opened a 20-foot square section of the road preparatory to repairing a sink in the highway.

Service Director Joseph Rooney said he believed the road fault was caused by the same underground ditch that was filled last week by city workers on the west side of the street.

Cause of the sink was laid to termite that had eaten away old log fillers used years ago to fill a ditch. Rooney said the heavy pressure of traffic had caused the logs to give way and the ground to sink under the road.

Traffic on the east side of the road will be closed for about a week, Rooney said.

2 Columbusites Held For Theft

Two Columbus men are in Pickaway County jail awaiting trial Thursday night in Circleville mayor's court where they will be accused of stealing 20 rods of wire fence valued at $17.66 from Fred Costlow of Ashville.

William Baxter and James Crimeans, both 29, were arrested Wednesday at Crimeans' home in Columbus by Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff. The deputy said the wire was recovered under a stack of concrete blocks in Crimeans' back yard.

Radcliff said he was led to the Columbus home by tracing a license number on Crimeans' car. Neighbors of Costlow, who saw the wire in the rear of the car about two weeks ago, gave the information to the sheriff's office, Radcliff said.

Wage Envelopes To Be Fatter After Friday

WASHINGTON, April 29—The paychecks of 45 million taxpayers will be fatter after tomorrow because of the $4.8 billion tax cut law passed over President Truman's veto.

About seven million 400 thousand workers will be relieved of paying any tax at all.

These are the salient effects which the law will have on the withholding taxes of U. S. workers beginning May 1. Uncle Sam will start taking a smaller cut from wages and salaries paid on or after that date, regardless of when they were earned.

Every one of the 55 million income tax payers in the country will benefit from the law but only the 45 million subject to withholding taxes will feel the immediate benefit.

Those who make payments on a quarterly or yearly basis will find occasion to rejoice when the payments are made. The next quarterly tax installment is due June 15.

The new law also extends to all taxpayers so-called community property privileges now enjoyed in only 12 states and raises personal exemptions from $500 a person to $600 a person.

The law is retroactive to Jan. 1 but the taxpayers will have to wait until next year to get a refund for payments made under the old rates during the first four months of this year.

Committee Frowns On New Truce

got away after setting fire to the buildings.

Jewish forces near Jaffa pinned down by British rocket-firing planes, artillery and armored cars began to resist with heavy mortar fire after a lull during the night.

British armored units had stemmed the principal Jewish thrusts in accordance with a warning they will not permit Jewish occupation of Jaffa.

The British army threatened another air blow against Jewish positions unless the Jews call off the Jaffa offensive, but the Jews continued to disregard the ultimatum.

A-Panel Faces Crippling Claim

WASHINGTON, April 29—President Truman bluntly charged today that failure of the Senate to confirm his nominations to the Atomic Energy Commission would cripple the atomic program and endanger the safety of the nation.

The chief executive issued a statement calling upon the Senate to act favorably as provided by the law Congress itself passed.

Mr. Truman said that it had come to his attention that a proposal had been made in the Senate that that body should not act on the nominations, "but that instead the Congress should enact a law extending the terms of the present commission for one or two years."

180 Pupils Set For State Test

Approximately 180 to 200 Pickaway County high school students are expected to participate in the final district-statement scholarship tests at Ohio State university Saturday.

Thirty of the students are to go as representatives of Circleville high school. George D. McDowell, county superintendent said he expected about 150 to 200 county school students to attend. The test is a yearly function sponsored by the state.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and pecking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues . . . whether a man should drink beer or cider . . . whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts . . . instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

FIRM STARTED IN 1893

Cussins-Fearn Schedules
55th Anniversary Sale

The Cussins and Fearn Company's 55th Anniversary Sale will start Saturday with an unprecedented lineup of bargains for the entire month of May, Herbert M. Frey, manager of this firm's local branch store announced Thursday.

The original decision to offer a full 31-day sale was made by B. A. Durrant, president of the Cussins and Fearn Co., who is widely known in Pickaway County.

"This sale is five years overdue," Durrant asserts. "It was originally scheduled as a Golden Jubilee Sale, back in 1943, but the war blocked it. Now we have all of the goods we want, and have stocked hard-to-get items especially for this event, and this will be the biggest sale in the Cussins and Fearn Company's history."

The 31-day sale will not only be observed in Circleville but in every other Cussins and Fearn store in Ohio, including the eight stores in Columbus.

EVERY PRICE in the Cussins and Fearn list will be slashed for the sale, Frey promised.

"We have had seven buyers working for months preparing for this sale," Frey declares, "and our trucks have been hauling huge loads of merchandise to our stores day and night for weeks."

An unprecedented budget of 245 full pages of advertising will be carried in Ohio newspapers, and will carry the story of the Cussins and Fearn bargains to the buyers during the month of May.

"We have survived three wars, three depressions, we're serving the third generation of Buckeyes, and it's time to celebrate!" was the context of a telegram sent to Frey by C. J. Penfield, Columbus head of this "All-Ohio" firm established in 1893.

Grover Cleveland had been in the White House only two months when the first Cussins and Fearn store was established in Columbus—a small, one-room, neighborhood establishment carrying a stock of hardware and builders' supplies.

The first branch store was opened in Chillicothe in 1927, and it was an immediate success. The store in Circleville was established in 1928.

The Cussins and Fearn Co. has lived up to its slogan of "All in Ohio, and All for Ohio" by refusing to locate stores outside the borders of this state, and by buying merchandise—whenever possible—from Ohio manufacturers.

$447,250 Paid
In Lima Deal

LIMA, April 29—There was no doubt today about who owned a good part of the city of Lima.

Four business blocks were sold Tuesday afternoon for a total of $447,250, as part of the estate of oil and real estate speculator W. L. Russell, who died in 1923.

Russell heirs, Charles and William, both of Los Angeles, bid in the Woolworth building for $175,000, and the Collins Block containing three retail locations and a theatre for $117,000.

A. E. Reuben of Toledo bought a building housing two retail locations and two stories of apartments and offices for $80,000.

Dr. R. B. Krouse and George Vaile, both of Lima, bought the Mitchell building housing five retail shops for $75,200.

Stassen Backers
Issue Ballots

COLUMBUS, April 29 — The Ohio Stassen committee is distributing 40,000 sample ballots urging voters in non-contested congressional districts to "single-shot" Carrington T. Marshall as a presidential delegate.

Former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen is not contesting with Sen. Robert A. Taft for delegates in 11 of the 22 congressional districts.

Stassen has entered only one candidate—Marshall—for delegate-at-large. The sample ballots urge Stassen supporters to vote only for Marshall and not to vote for any other at-large candidates.

Pupils Demand
Principal Stay

AKRON, April 29—The Summit County school board and pupils of nearby Copley high school are to meet tonight in a special session concerning the dismissal of Frank Weiss, the school's principal for the past six years.

After distributing 2,000 letters, the students yesterday staged a mass protest meeting in the school's auditorium. Pupils said plans for a strike were called off when the board agreed to tonight's meeting.

F. C. McKibben, chairman of the board, said Weiss was dismissed on recommendation of Supt. E. R. Malone for "lack of planning and unity and lack of leadership in both pupil and teacher contracts."

By $150,000 Fire

COLBY, Kan., April 29—A half block area of this village lies in ruins today along with the town's lone piece of fire equipment following a $150,000 blaze.

No casualties were reported as the flames destroyed two buildings housing a garage and a clothing store.

The town's lone fire fighting equipment was destroyed in the fire, and volunteers from the town's 3,500 population formed a bucket brigade in a vain attempt to quench the flames.

U.S., Canuck Chiefs Laud Friendship

Kiwanis Good Will Week Praised

Pointing out to the world that the United States and Canada have lived as peaceful neighbors for more than 150 years, President Truman and Prime Minister King have jointly declared that the unfortified boundary between the two countries serves as an outstanding example of international good will.

The two chief executives, in letters to Dr. Charles W. Armstrong, president of Kiwanis International, lauded the friendship of their countries as Kiwanis clubs in nearly 3,000 communities observed United States-Canada Good Will Week from April 25 to May 2.

President Truman said that "Americans and Canadians are proud, not of the fact that they have never had a difference, but that their friendship has survived differences and has remained strong."

He expressed the opinion that observances such as United States-Canada Good Will Week have "greater significance today than ever before."

CITING THE "long-standing and increasingly close friendship between Canada and the United States," Prime Minister King declared "it is an example of international good will which, in these days, would afford the highest possible inspiration to all nations of the world which seek peace by negotiation and conciliation."

Dr. Armstrong said that Kiwanians in the United States and Canada are observing the week "as a period for strengthening the ties that bind our two countries."

Kiwanis clubs across the border will exchange speakers and messages of good will, he added.

OSU Must Pay Sewage Bill

1 Bid Received On VA Hospital

COLUMBUS, April 29—A lone bid of $1,160,000 for the construction of an addition to the Brecksville veterans hospital at Cleveland was announced yesterday by the Veterans' Administration here.

The bid, entered by the Carmichael Construction Co. of Akron is for the construction of two four-story wings. VA Deputy Administrator Ralph H. Stone said a decision whether to accept the lone bid would be made in 10 days.

The wings would add 190 beds to the hospital, now used to treat veterans for tuberculosis.

BUC Overrules Job Objection

COLUMBUS, April 29—Objections to unions in general is not reason enough for a person to refuse a job and still remain eligible for unemployment compensation.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation ruled today that a woman who turned down a job for that reason could not claim unemployment benefits.

The board of review said the woman's refusal to accept work for which she was qualified did not meet the provisions of the law which require a claimant to be available for employment.

Schacht To Get Appeal, Report

FRANKFURT, April 29—The Army Newspaper Stars and Stripes reported today that former German Finance Minister Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who was convicted by a denazification court, has been granted an appeal.

The paper quoted "reliable sources" as saying Schacht will produce new evidence with which he hopes to reduce his sentence of eight years at hard labor.

$146,438 for sewage rental charges accumulated since 1937. The court allowed a writ of mandamus asked by City Attorney Richard W. Gordon. The court decision will release the money, appropriated by the legislature June 14, 1937, for payment only if the high court ruled the university liable.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vickers of Columbus were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Flora Vickers.

A new gas range has been purchased for the school cafeteria. It will be in operation this week and will be a great aid to the two cooks, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Fausnaugh, in preparing meals for pupils.

The Stoutsville Scholarship team is making preparations to motor to Granville Saturday morning for the District-State Scholarship tests which will be given there.

The County music Festival will be held Thursday evening. Richard Hedges, Stoutsville Junior will play his Baritone Horn at that time in the all County Band.

Veterans Urged Use Special VA Envelopes

Veterans Administration officials Thursday urged veterans in Ohio to use official VA premium mailing envelopes when paying GI insurance premiums by mail.

James P. Shea, Pickaway County veterans service officer, said use of the envelopes helps expedite handling of GI insurance payments since full information necessary to process the payment already is included by VA before the envelope is mailed to policy holders.

Veterans who pay GI insurance premiums by mail should make checks or money orders payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 29—The House foreign affairs committee voted to open public hearings on steps to strengthen the United Nations' power to combat aggression.

The hearings will get underway Tuesday and Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to UN, will be the initial witness if he can appear that day.

The action was taken on a motion by Rep. Bolton, (R) Ohio. The motion provided that the committee shall receive testimony "on the structure of the United Nations and the relations between the United States and the United Nations."

Butte county, Idaho, was named for Big Butte, the largest of the three buttes that served as a landmark to the early emigrants over the Oregon trail.

How to Fall in Love

in one easy lesson

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflow* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silently you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boasting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

COXEY STILL HERE

ONCE his name sent shudders down bankers' backs. Now he is an old gentleman of 94, with a six-point program for solving the world crisis. This is Jacob S. Coxe, who in 1894 led an army of unemployed to Washington to plead for the issuance of unlimited greenbacks. The idea was that most people's troubles came from not having enough money. Therefore if you print money in such quantities as to make it plentiful, you have solved the average man's problems. Yes, there is an obvious catch in this, but Coxe didn't see it, and doesn't now; for he has the same program.

The famous Coxe's Army petered out as it got to Washington on May 1, 1894, the final blow being arrest of the leaders for walking on the White House grass. But for a little while the conservatives were alarmed at the thought that voters would march directly to Washington to tell what they wanted instead of writing to their congressmen, and receiving a non-committal reply, "I greatly appreciate hearing from you."

From his home in Massillon, Coxe demands another reform which at least ought to be popular, whatever its other merits. He would do away entirely with income taxes. If he would only extend this to all forms of taxation, his scheme would sweep the country.

NATIONAL SECURITY

SOME Americans, in their love for peace, tend to go too far and forget the essentials under which a genuine peace is maintained. There have been times in American history, and are likely to be times again, when it was found necessary to go temporarily outside our own domain in order to insure our own safety.

Security is a matter not only of internal but also of external conditions, and of minding our own business in such a manner that fair-minded people, both at home and abroad, will be obliged to admit that if we step over a boundary it will only be in such a way and for such purposes as were legitimate according to the general rules of nations. It is probably safe to say that in this procedure our own country has been more scrupulous than any other power in recent times.

NOT OLD-FASHIONED

ONE TASK which Congress should not neglect before adjournment is to make a law regulating the use of the term "old-fashioned strawberry shortcake." The shortcake addict (and who isn't?) knows that the genuine article is made with biscuit dough. More customers are displeased with substitutions on this point than from almost any other known cause.

The White House is a dangerous firetrap, it is announced, with a $50,000 appropriation needed to make it safe. Though this was reported some time ago, no presidential candidate is known to have withdrawn from the race.

Keep Commies in Open | Publicity Best Weapon
UAC and FBI Declare | In Battling Communism

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The House un-American activities committee agrees with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover. Don't send the Communists underground. The committee has decided that full publicity is the best weapon to use against communism.

Members said that they are agreed that any attempt to outlaw the Communist party would be ineffective. They recalled that such a step had failed in other countries, including Canada.

This focusing of the spotlight on communism accounts for legislative proposals, emanating from the committee, to require the attorney general to specify what organizations are "Communist Front," and to require such organizations to register with the government as foreign agents.

Organizations so branded would have the privilege of review of the attorney general's findings by the federal courts. However, an attempt would be made to require that all propaganda of the organizations be labeled as "Communist Front."

● OPERATORS' BUDGET—Soft coal operators figure that maximum pension that can be sustained under the present 10 cents a ton royalty on coal is $50 a month to miners aged 65.

They claim the compromise pension agreement reached between John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges (R), New Hampshire, recently appointed welfare fund trustee, would confront the coal industry with an accrued liability of over one billion dollars.

This, the mine owners say, would require an increase in the coal

These Days

The River Elbe is the dividing line between East and West in Europe, between the Tueton and the Slav, between what Toynbee calls the Western Christian and the Eastern Orthodox civilizations.

Rising in Bohemia, it passes through some of the most important areas of Czechoslovakia and Germany. Into it flows the Moldau, the Weisswasser, the Eger. It passes through the beautiful "Saxon Switzerland," where Frederick the Great fought one of his most important battles. It touches on Dresden, Wittenberg, Magdeburg, and Hamburg and finally flows into the North Sea off Cuxhaven.

It was at Hamburg, between the Elbe and the Alster, that Charlemagne built a fortress in 808 to keep out the Slav and Norseman. The church he erected three years later became the heart of one of the great centers for Christian missionary activity not only among the Slavs but also in Jutland, the Danish Isles and Sweden and Norway.

Hamburg became under the Holstein one of the most important commercial cities in Northern Europe and a thriving center of Hanseatic activity. It has ever been a dividing line between European and Slav, between Europe and Eurasia. Bohemia itself is the dividing kingdom between East and West, and the Moldau, where it flows into the Elbe, on the Saxon border, is in the Western part of that country.

And so in 1948, the Elbe marks the westernmost movement of the Russian thrust into Europe, the farthest penetration without war. Here they have encountered the hard core of European civilization which is Christianity, in its Catholic and Protestant expressions. Here they encountered not politics and economics but religion—a power that resists evil most when evil seems to be most triumphant.

The Italian election is a case in point. Whereas the Communists may shout, "Fraud!" "American Dollars," the fact remains that the Italians responded to the direct, religious challenge of the Pope. It became an election for God or the Devil. At no time was the question at stake in doubt; priests were campaigning for the survival of their faith. Against that power, in hard times, Italy responded valiantly for God. This election is one of the most decisive in European history.

And curiously, the Russians have accepted its results as decisive. All the talk of strikes and uprisings was dissipated once the results were in, for the Russians, guided by historical materialism, recognized their defeat as not being accidental but as a repetition of the results of every effort that the Eastern Orthodox civilization has made to overwhelm the Western Christian civilization. The East has often moved Westward but it has always encountered this hard core and has always lost the battle and receded to its own steppes. Europe remains Europe—and Europe is not merely a geographical expression; it is a civilization.

The Ottoman Turks encountered the same experience when they moved into Europe. They were able to conquer in the Balkans but when they reached the gates of Vienna, they came up against the European core of religious faith which stood like an invisible wall against them. Europe remains Western.

Men are so eager to see the world that they fly up in the stratosphere where they can't see anything.

DIET AND HEALTH

Early Treatment Important In the Case of a Cataract

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CLOUDING of the lens of the eye is known as cataract. There are various reasons for the tissue changes which lead to cataract, among them being poor circulation and poor diet. It is generally agreed, however, that when cataract appears before the age of 60 it is due either to infection of the eye itself or to a toxic condition elsewhere in the body, in which substances harmful to the lens are produced.

Such changes in the lens occurring after the age of 60, and the majority of cases do occur after 60, are usually due to the aging processes. Some physicians are of the opinion that these changes are unavoidable and cannot be warded off. However, other doctors believe that with right living habits, such as the use of proper diet, rest and exercise, and the correction of physical disorders, the development of cataract in elderly persons often can be prevented.

Consults Doctor
The patient with cataract usually consults a doctor because of spots before the eyes, dizziness, or headache, or because light causes pain in the eyes. In other instances, the only symptoms of cataract are gradual loss of vision. Many persons with beginning cataract, failing to realize their trouble, feel that all they need to do is to buy a pair of glasses. Of course, this will not correct their vision because the cataract blocks the passage of light rays into the eye. Furthermore, the delay in having treatment allows the cataract to progress.

Loss of Eyesight
Early changes in the lens of the eye produce a gradual loss of eyesight. In fact, the loss of vision may be so gradual that the patient is not conscious of any inconvenience. Later on, if the patient has been wearing glasses, he may find that he sees better without them. This happens because the lens swells up. This does not mean that the condition is actually improving. In fact, it only indicates that the trouble is getting worse.

Up to the present, the only satisfactory method of treating cataract, once it is fully developed, is by removal of the lens. Of course, the operation should be done by one who is skilled in this procedure.

Physical Condition
Before the operation the patient should be put in the best possible physical condition. Following it, the patient should be kept on his back for about four hours, after which time he may be turned on either side. However, the head must be kept flat for at least a week.

As persons approach middle age, they should consult an eye specialist from time to time for examination of the eyes, even if they have had no difficulty with the vision. In this way, the development of cataract may be discovered early and proper measures taken to ward off the progress of the condition or, in any event, to keep the eyes under observation until operation is required.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
A. C. Will you please tell me something about neuritis?
A. Neuritis means inflammation of a nerve or the tissue surrounding a nerve.

Local neuritis generally comes from a cold, most commonly in the facial nerve. It may be due to trauma from wounds, blows, direct pressure on the nerve, the tearing and stretching which follows the breaking of a bone, or it may be produced by injecting ether into a nerve. It may result from the extension of infection from a neighboring part, such as neuritis of the facial nerve, due to infection of the bones in the face or skull.

In the local type of neuritis there are no general disturbances in most instances. The most important symptom is pain of a burning or stabbing sort, usually felt along the course of the affected nerve and in the parts which the nerve supplies. The skin may be slightly reddened or swollen over the site of the inflammation. Sometimes there is an increase in the temperature.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

JOHN was alone with his breakfast, with the dogs, with the paper, with the prattling Judy—and with his thoughts.

Last night had brought him no nearer Helen than he had ever been. He should have known it wouldn't. He had known. Yet he had felt to salvage a memory, on which to try to build their life together anew, had been behind his effort. But before her resigned submission, her cold indifference, her deliberate remoteness, his ardor had faltered and he had left her, finally, to stare for hours in the blackness, the storm within him unabated, his hope dead, his defeat admitted.

He turned the front page without having read a word. Must a man pay penance all his life for an early mistake, he wondered? Yet even if Helen and I should separate, Anne is engaged to Alec. She loves him. Not me.

Unbidden, the words had entered his full consciousness. All right, then. There it was. He loved Anne. From the very moment of meeting her, he had loved her. He had known—but she hadn't. Nor did she guess now. No one did.

He turned another page. Any way that made her shriek with joy, and, with an affectionate smack, sent her on her way to the kitchen. He could hear Auntie's deep-voiced welcome. "Mm! Mm! If 'taint mah 'H! sugar plum!" Judy did not lack for love in spite of an unloving mother. Auntie lavished it on her, as did Julia and Gram. Even Henry—And Anne.

Anne again. Every path of his mind led back to her.

He glanced impatiently at the clock over the fireplace. She should be coming down soon now. He could hardly wait. But she did not come. Julia came. And Henry. And Gram. But no Anne. Presently he rose from the table and went out to the kitchen. Judy was all right. Moe and Hyacinth, Anne's children, were playing with her under Auntie's watchful eye.

He went on out to the porch, and then, as if he had not known he was planning to do just this, he opened the door to the back stairs that led to Alec's room, went up them, through his room, and still unobserved, mounted the carpeted stairs to the third floor apartment where Anne lived.

Her door stood open. Though it he could see her clearly, seated at the drop-leaf table having her breakfast. She was wearing a deep yellow housecoat, a yellow ribbon caught back her bright hair and yellow scarfs were on her bare white feet. One hand held her coffee cup, the other propped up her chin as she gazed at Alec's photograph which she had placed directly before her plate.

She had not heard him and he looked at her quietly for a long moment. In the stillness he could hear the cold, thin sleet rattling on the roof and the wind shaking the frozen skeletons of the trees.

"No," he said patiently. "No. You don't understand. It's our marriage I'm trying to make over. Not you."

"Our marriage," she had told him with crisp finality, "is the way it is. Nothing can make it different. Nothing." And then in the next breath she had gone on to talk about giving a party before they left for New York. "I'm indebted to everybody I know," she said. "I'll clear the slate with one bang-up affair here so we'll be in line for invitations."

No transient ecstasy could ever bridge the distances between them, he had told himself in quiet despair. And she wanted it that way. She wanted an abyss too wide for passion to span. For that way she would be more than ever unloved.

She had given, and at the same time she had taken away. So had she always done. Only each time she had taken away a little more than she had given, until, at last, nothing remained. Nothing. It had been then, realize that, that he had left her.

Judy interrupted him at this point, lifting up her arms to be taken from her chair. Well, all right, but had she finished her coffee? Had she drunk all her milk? Gladly she tipped her mug to prove it. So John swung her way up and then slowly down in the way that made her shriek with joy, and, with an affectionate smack, sent her on her way to the kitchen. He could hear Auntie's deep-voiced welcome. "Mm! Mm! If 'taint mah 'H! sugar plum!" Judy did not lack for love in spite of an unloving mother. Auntie lavished it on her, as did Julia and Gram. Even Henry—And Anne.

Anne again. Every path of his mind led back to her.

He glanced impatiently at the clock over the fireplace. She should be coming down soon now. He could hardly wait. But she did not come. Julia came. And Henry. And Gram. But no Anne. Presently he rose from the table and went out to the kitchen. Judy was all right. Moe and Hyacinth, Anne's children, were playing with her under Auntie's watchful eye.

He went on out to the porch, and then, as if he had not known he was planning to do just this, he opened the door to the back stairs that led to Alec's room, went up them, through his room, and still unobserved, mounted the carpeted stairs to the third floor apartment where Anne lived.

She had not heard him and he looked at her quietly for a long moment. In the stillness he could hear the cold, thin sleet rattling on the roof and the wind shaking the frozen skeletons of the trees.

"No," he said patiently. "No. You don't understand. It's our

Dreary sounds. But her lamp-bright room with its primrose walls, its green painted floor, its crisp white curtains, and herself in buttercup coloring, gave an effect of spring. He raised a hand and knocked lightly.

She turned, surprise in her eyes, and half rose.

"Oh! How—how nice. Won't you come in?"

"Are you ill?" he asked, somewhat abruptly.

She dropped back into her chair and shook her head. She could see now that he was not quite himself. He looked tired, as if he had slept little, and the rush of gladness she always felt to see him gave way to concern. What was the trouble? Without asking, she knew. It was Helen. The way she had come in last night, the way she had taken him up upstairs before she had half-eaten, and then her voice going on and on, arguing—arguing. Anne had heard her briefly, the tone though not the words, when she had stepped into the living room to turn off the radio.

Long before this she had sensed the aridity of his personal life. Long before this she had known that he found fulfillment in his farm, that his passion was spent on his land, that his tenderness was poured out on little Judy. She had thought he successfully diverted his natural hungers in these ways but she saw now suddenly that she was mistaken.

She said, in reply to his question, "Not of course not! Come in, do! and have a cup of coffee with me." She picked up Alec's picture and set it aside. "I'm tired of making believe."

But he still stood there.

"No. No, thanks. I've just finished downstairs. I came to find out why you do this? Every once in a while you stay up here this way. Aren't you sure of your welcome yet? Does Helen—"

"Helen has nothing to do with it," she interrupted quickly. Helen has everything to do with it. She resents me. When she's as unfriendly as she was last night, it's better for me to keep out of the way. "It's just—well—I'm playing safe." She smiled up at him, as, half-unconsciously, he moved into the room toward her. "I don't actually belong here yet, you know, so now and then I remind myself that I don't—this way. I don't want to overstep my privileges."

"That's utter nonsense!" His tone held a note of sharpness, gone the next moment. "You must certainly do belong here. More than—as much as anyone, I mean."

He pulled out the chair opposite her and sat down. "May I change my mind and have some coffee, after all?"

"I'd have been insulted if you hadn't. It's your first visit, you know."

He said it as if he had just discovered it. As if, countless times before this, he had not held to himself almost forcibly below stairs when she did not appear.

PRINCIPLES IN REVERSE

PRACTICALLY every rule and guide to sound tactics in this funny game should be reversed in certain unusual situations. Perhaps the firmest of rules about leading is that which warns a sound defender away from opening the suit bid by the eventual dummy. The reason is definite.

Leading that suit is likely to help the declarer get discards of losers in his other suits before the defenders pick them off. But if that suit is marked as being tremendous in length and solidity, a lead of it may break contact between the declarer and dummy before he can get the trumps out. If it does that, the low-card remainders of it may go to waste.

This hand was bid a number of different ways in a big duplicate. That in the sequence above developed at two tables, the contract being made in one case and beaten in the other. The opening lead decided the outcome.

Texas has the largest number of counties and Delaware the smallest among states of the Union.

At one table West laid down his spade A and, getting the 2 from his partner, switched to the club 10. South ruffed that, pushed out the heart A with the K and then cared not what East returned. He could win it, pull out the trump and so just walk home with a solid hand.

In the other case, West led his diamond 9, feeling that the earlier double of 5-Diamonds by East indicated the desirability of his leading that suit. It did no such thing, but surprisingly the diamond lead put the blocks to South's contract. South won that with his 10, used his heart K to remove the A and took the returned diamond 5 with dummy's A. Having no way to get a second round of trumps and then re-enter dummy to use the diamonds, he had to lose two spade tricks, so was down one.

Farm Loans Hit Record March High

Demand 36.5 Pct. Above Year Ago

Demand for farm operating loans hit a new postwar high in March, according to a report of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Louisville.

J. B. E. LaPlante, president, said loans discounted during March amounted to $16,327,946.50 for 7,139 farmers and farmer cooperatives in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Outstanding loans on March 31 amounted to $46,722,521.56. This was 32.5 percent above one year ago and largest since the bank was chartered 25 years ago—on March 23, 1923.

The bank functions as a wholesaler of credit. It discounts loans made to farmers for operating purposes by production credit associations, agricultural credit corporations, banks for cooperatives and commercial banks.

In providing these retail lenders with over $625,000,000 not including renewals, during the past 25 years, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Louisville, according to LaPlante, "has not experienced a single credit loss."

"It has established something of a record for dependability in making operating funds available to farmers at low rates and has done this at no cost to the government. The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank does not lend government money but obtains the money they lend from the sale of debentures on the open investment market," he said.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

That Old Apple Tree Needs Care

By DEAN HALUDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

MANY suburban home owners and garden lovers have a few favorite old apple trees. Often they are the uncared for remnants of a farm orchard which existed before the land was laid out for real estate purposes. Such trees often can be renovated without too much effort, and made to produce fruit as their contribution to Freedom gardening.

If the apple tree is vigorous it does not matter too much if it is well along in years. A 40 to 50-year-old apple tree, uncared for but still vigorous, is a better potential producer of fruit for home purposes, than a younger, half-starved and ailing apple tree. Check an old apple tree for suckers and water sprouts. Suckers are those growths pushed up from the ground, at or near the base of the trunk. Water sprouts, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, make their appearance on the trunk and main branches of a tree.

If the tree has many strong-growing suckers or water sprouts it indicates a healthy trunk, and a tree worth caring for, even though it otherwise shows signs of neglect.

If the trunk of a neglected apple tree shows signs of abuse, wrong pruning and decaying stubs, as illustrated, it is not worth saving. In such cases it is better to cut down the old tree and make room for the planting of a new one.

Airliner Crew Lauded As Ship Catches Fire

CLEVELAND, April 29—The crew of an American Airlines DC-6 passenger plane was credited today with preventing panic among 48 passengers when an engine of the craft burst into flames.

Air Capt. E. S. Swanson, the pilot, dived the four-motored plane nearly 3,000 feet to blow out the flames, which broke out as the craft passed over Toledo at 21,000 feet altitude.

Emergency fire squads at Cleveland airport poured 200 pounds of carbon dioxide extinguisher on the scorched motor and damaged right wing when the plane landed.

Mrs. Ruth Allard of New York, one of the passengers, said she was "quite alarmed" when the fire began but the assuring smiles of Stewardesses Marian L. Negaard and Eileen M. Sexton "calmed my fears."

OTHER PASSENGERS also praised the work of the crew. After the plane came out of its dive and continued to Cleveland, the stewardesses resumed serving of luncheon.

Capt. Swanson said that a broken impeller blade in the supercharger of the No. 3 engine caused the fire when it blew off its hub.

Showman Held In Death Case

COLUMBUS, April 29—A 48-year-old night club master of ceremonies arrested in Toledo is scheduled for another grilling today in the March 31 Columbus knife slaying of Former Denver Cafe Hostess Mona McBride.

Detectives said the fellow, about five feet eight inches tall and weighing about 140 pounds, "answers the description of the man who registered (at a hotel) with Mona, and also the man seen leaving the hotel and entering a cab the night before the body was found."

The DC-6 left Chicago yesterday afternoon for a non-stop flight to New York. The passengers continued the trip in another DC-6 flown in from Chicago.

Ex-King Peter Says Aid Plan To Bring End To Dictatorships

NEW YORK, April 29—Former King Peter of Yugoslavia has said that "the Marshall Plan is just the beginning of the freedom of Europe from all dictatorships, present or future."

The slight, modest ex-king, 24, with his wife Alexander, arrived here yesterday in the Queen Elizabeth.

He declared: "The people of the world are fed up with dictatorships, both inside and outside of the iron curtain. We Europeans all hope and know that the United States has taken up the cause of Europe and we're all very grateful."

The Italian elections, he said, are most indicative of the success of the Marshall Plan.

The former king, who refused to pose as a pundit out of deference to his age and inexperience, was emphatic about only one thing. He insisted that the European aid plan is "not a question of money," and added:

"IT IS A CHANCE to put us Europeans on our feet again. It is help from a friend, and that is what matters. It is going to aid people to help themselves. It is going to help people to work for their own betterment."

Peter expressed every confidence that he would return to the throne of Yugoslavia as soon as the people of his country are allowed to express themselves at a free election. He said:

"Under present conditions there is no possibility of a free vote, but that may change any day."

DID YOU KNOW?

AESOP DID NOT WRITE "AESOP'S FABLES"

A Graeco-Italian named Babrius wrote the famous Fables several centuries after Aesop's death. Some chroniclers maintain that Aesop was in reality only a legend... that such a character never really lived at all. In any event the fables he is supposed to have composed are lost. Not one exists today.

Hog Cholera Warning Is Made Here

Ohio Ag Chief Urges Vaccines

In spite of the remarkable progress made last year in checking hog cholera losses, hog production and farm profits are again threatened as reports of outbreaks in several areas of Ohio continue to reach the Ohio Department of Agriculture headquarters in Columbus. These reports were revealed by the director of agriculture, Frank Farnsworth.

"Ohio is one of many states affected by this new outbreak," Farnsworth said, pointing out that a report from the American Foundation for Animal Health states that the virus of hog cholera is as deadly as ever.

It strikes, kills, and spreads and seems to move in cycles. For several years, the number of serious outbreaks has been reduced. This may be the year for a fresh upturn in the cycle and that could be disastrous to this season's short pig crop.

Approximately 1,300 outbreaks of cholera in the various hog states were reported last season, which was considered not too serious.

The Foundation indicates that this was probably due to the large number of vaccinated hogs which formed a living barrier to the spread of the disease.

DR. HARRY G. GEYER, chief of the division of animal industry of the Ohio Department of Agriculture said that every pig should be vaccinated this year around weaning time, as there is no cure for cholera and the only sure protection lies in vaccination before an outbreak strikes.

As a further precaution, farmers are urged not to visit the barns or pastures of any neighbor who has a known or suspected case of cholera. Hog cholera can be spread on the feet or clothing, and by truck and wagon wheels.

A llama can exist only in the highest altitudes—eight, to 14,000 feet above sea level.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Observer

An era of confusion was ushered in today with mobilization of the Arab armies and increasing cloudiness can be expected before the battle-lines are firmly drawn in Palestine, if drawn they are to be.

All signs pointed to determination by the Arab states to aid the Arabs of Palestine by fire and sword against the determined Jews of the Holy Land.

But there are many major factors which may interpose themselves to prevent a clear picture of the situation in the next few days and weeks.

Here are some of the presently unanswerable questions: Just how strong is the Arab Legion under command of British Major John Glubb Pasha?

Estimates range all the way from 6,000 to 15,000 men. They are well-trained and well-armed. But they are dependent upon Britain for their arms and ammunition. Is their supply inexhaustible or have the instruments of defense and war been handed out on a rationing system like everything else in post-war Britain?

CAN THE ARAB state rulers afford to detach their full military strength from home bases?

The British have announced that they will resist any Arab "incursions" attempted before they surrender their Palestine mandate on May 15. Is it possible that Glubb Pasha, trained in the British army tradition, would go into battle against the Warwickshire and other first-class British regiments now in Palestine?

And finally, would the Arab League court world disfavor at a time when so many vital issues are at stake by announcing any open declaration of war?

Certainly the Middle Eastern situation is complex in the extreme and there is no question that certain aspects of it are being exploited by propagandists.

The mere mention of Arab Legion forces on Palestine soil creates a furore. Yet under treaties signed by Great Britain and Trans-Jordan, the legion is obligated to maintain security stations in points such as Jericho and to patrol woods, navigable streams and bridges to prevent brigandage and violence.

It is noteworthy that for almost every sensational report out of Jerusalem, Damascus, Beirut, Bagdad or Cairo there has been a denial.

That the Arab armies are maneuvering for position seems beyond all question. But the situation has not yet coalesced into unmistakable warfare on the grand scale.

Woman, Girl Die In Fire

ST. ALBANS, Vt., April 29—A woman and a 16-year-old girl were burned to death yesterday as a spectacular fire did an estimated half a million dollars damage to the opera house block here.

The dead: Mrs. George Shephard, 56, and Miss Iris Cochran. Both were trapped in their fourth, top floor apartment. Thirty-two residents of apartments in the long business-apartment brick building were rescued over ladders and by jumping into life nets.

35 Horses In Use Today Compared To 100 In 1915

COLUMBUS, April 29—Census figures showing only 60 horses on U. S. farms Jan. 1, 1948 for each 100 there on the same date in 1940 and only 35 the first day of this year for each 100 on Jan. 1, 1915, indicate clearly the rapid mechanization of farm work but the figures also mark the passing of an era which began when horses from the East rode over the foot soldiers of western Europe.

In war and peace, horses made history within the borders of the U. S. Farm teams along the highways in Ohio now are halted by their drivers waiting for a chance to spurt across the road between automobiles, the same highways where stage coach drivers cursed teamsters who were slow in pulling out of the road with wagons which held people and goods on the long ride west.

Livestock Sale Volume Soars; Prices Holding

Volume of sales at the Pickaway County Livestock Association stockyard auctions Wednesday jumped back up past the 1,000 mark, the market increasing 397 head over last week's receipts to establish a market of 1,167 head.

Prices however remained virtually unchanged, with almost the same quotations given in the cattle market as recorded last week, the hog market slightly down and the calves market averaging about the same.

Sheep and lambs receipts were still light Wednesday, with not enough head on sale to establish a market.

Total cattle receipts Wednesday dropped 28 head with 165 as compared to 193 on sale last week.

CALVES RECEIPTS took a slight climb in Wednesday's sales, increasing 25 head at 102 as compared to the 77 marketed last Wednesday.

Largest increase of sales was registered in the sale of hogs, which bounced up to 900 head Wednesday, an increase of 400 head as compared to last week's receipts.

Following is a complete report of Wednesday's transactions. CATTLE RECEIPTS—165 head—Steers and heifers, good 22-30 top 30-35; steers and heifers, medium to good 24-28; steers and heifers, common to medium 17-24; cows, common to good 19-24; cows, common to medium 12-25; 19-27; 30.

Modern Artists Working Closer To Own Region

CINCINNATI, April 29—Embryonic writers and artists take note. The garret is definitely on its way out.

Nor is it customary now to take one's sprouting talents to Greenwich Village or the Paris Left Bank.

The spur toward achievement lies not in a carefully nurtured case of malnutrition but in keeping an ear to the ground and one's nose to the grindstone.

Dr. Harlan Hatcher of Ohio State university phrased it a bit differently when he addressed the Phi Beta Kappa chapter at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Hatcher, dean of the college of arts and sciences at Ohio State, said: "There is a strong disposition on the part of authors at the present time to live and do their work in their own region, less urge to flee to some better or faraway place."

According to Hatcher, higher learning is coming into its own where formerly artists regarded a university atmosphere with suspicion.

House Committee OKs Bill Hitting Commies In U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 29—The House UnAmerican Activities Committee has approved a bill aimed at curbing the U. S. Communist Party and its numerous front organizations.

The measure, unanimously approved, would stamp leaders and officials of the Communist Party as participants in a world revolutionary movement to establish totalitarian dictatorship and would confront them with possible criminal prosecution.

It also would require an annual registration of the entire membership list of the Communist Party with the Justice department.

The legislation is the first such measure ever reported by the committee in its 10-year history and constitutes the strongest legislative blow ever struck against Communist activities in the United States.

The bill would make party leaders liable to criminal penalties of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for taking part "in the management, direction or supervision" of the Communist Party.

Two contested damage claims totalling $11,994.65, resulting from a two-car collision in January 1947, have been settled out of Pickaway County common pleas court.

First action was filed by Hazel Pummel, owner of one car, for $8,319.65 against Joseph McKinley. The second claim to be lodged against McKinley was by Frank Pummel, driver of the car. Petitions claimed the accident occurred on State Route 3 between London and Derby. Petitions and answers filed by both the plaintiffs and defendant claimed negligence on opposing parties.

Mrs. McKinley who was reportedly riding with her husband at the time died of shock.

Clergyman, Wife File Law Suit

COLUMBUS, April 29—A Geauga County clergyman and his wife have asked the Franklin County common pleas court to award them $50,000 damages from the Fort Hayes Hotel in Columbus.

The Rev. Warren Bechtold and Mrs. Bechtold, of Huntsburg, charged two men invaded the privacy of their room on April 26, 1947. Each plaintiff asked $25,000.

The Bechtolds charged that the two men, one of them representing himself as the hotel detective, knocked on the Congregational minister's door at 1 a. m., were admitted, and began to search the room.

The man representing himself as the detective said he was seeking identification to prove that Mrs. Bechtold was not the minister's wife, the petition stated. The two men left after failing to find that proof, the suit added.

Cannery Men Optimistic About '48, Mader Says

Cannery men are optimistic about the future, H. Sheldon Mader of Circleville, told the members of the Associated Wholesale Food Distributors of Ohio at their annual convention in Columbus.

"With the program of European relief, rearmament, proposed draft, and demands for a third round of wage increases getting under way, any prospective let-down in employment or industrial activities can be forgotten," he said.

"The reduction of income taxes and any new wage increases will increase purchasing power, so that, naturally, we can expect a larger consuming year confronting us."

In spite of this, however, Mader said, and taking weather into consideration, "it is difficult for the processor to formulate any definite plans."

He added: "With acreage being reduced voluntarily by the canners, plus the resistance of the growers on contracting adding to the reduction, it does not look as if there will be any over-production on any item of canned vegetables this year. Provided canners are able to plant their anticipated acreage, and with the cooperation of Mother Nature for normal crops, there will be enough produced this year to take care of the demand of the consumer at last year's prices."

"The reduction of income taxes and any new wage increases will increase purchasing power, so that, naturally, we can expect a larger consuming year confronting us."

In spite of this, however, Mader said, and taking weather into consideration, "it is difficult for the processor to formulate any definite plans."

He added: "With acreage being reduced voluntarily by the canners, plus the resistance of the growers on contracting adding to the reduction, it does not look as if there will be any over-production on any item of canned vegetables this year. Provided canners are able to plant their anticipated acreage, and with the cooperation of Mother Nature for normal crops, there will be enough produced this year to take care of the demand of the consumer at last year's prices."

Panel Urges All Officers Get Exam

10,000 Pensioners Under Probe

WASHINGTON, April 29—A House committee recommended today that approximately 10,000 military officers who have been given physical or disability retirement since Jan. 1, 1944, be reexamined.

The recommendations were made by a House armed services subcommittee which at the same time said an investigation of retirements, including that of Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers, showed no evidence of fraud.

The group suggested that officers who were disabled in combat or in war duty or whose disability is obviously permanent should be excused from a recheck. They number approximately 25,000 men.

The proposed reexamination plan would apply to both regular and non-regular personnel. In its report, the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Elston, (R) Ohio, suggested that all retired regular officers who are found to have recovered from their disability be returned to the active list in their last active-duty grade.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE advised that the reexaminations be conducted by a panel with an equal number of both regular and non-regular medical personnel.

The report is the result of extensive hearings conducted by the House group following disclosure that Meyers, who was convicted of perjury in connection with his wartime activities, had been granted physical retirement by the Army.

president of the Cuyahoga County board of commissioners, promised to name his group this week.

The committee agreed that if Herbert turned down its plea, a special constitutional amendment would be presented to the voters in November, providing for uniform taxation of real and personal property. The problem arose when the supreme court decided some brick kilns of the Roseville Pottery Co., of Zanesville, were personal property and therefore taxable at only half their assessed value.

Several public officials have said the decision opens the way for a reclassification of much of the state's industrial property and that it would mean a big loss of revenue to local governments.

Why You Should VOTE FOR Albert Edward Payne FOR GOVERNOR

I solemnly and sincerely promise and swear that if I am nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, I will work against:

1. ORGANIZED GAMBLING IN ALL ITS FORMS AND DEVICES.
2. LAZINESS IN THE STATE GOVERNMENT.
3. THE STATE SALES TAX ON ALL FOODS AND MEDICINES.
4. TAXES ON HOMES AND INCOMES OF PEOPLE OVER 60 YEARS OF AGE.
5. RULE BY POLITICAL BOSSES.

ALBERT EDWARD PAYNE

I, furthermore, sincerely promise and swear that if I am nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, I will give the State of Ohio: A dynamic, progressive business government; ample relief to aged persons; better roads, including super highways; more industries.

Signed: ALBERT EDWARD PAYNE

A VOTE FOR ALBERT EDWARD PAYNE FOR GOVERNOR

Is a Vote Against Negligent, Lazy State Government By Political Bosses

BEFORE you cast your important vote in the May 4 primaries, think over these facts:

Albert Edward Payne has been endorsed by Dr. Norman E. Nygaard, crime-battling minister of Steubenville, Ohio. Albert Edward Payne is a Republican but he is NOT under the yoke of any political boss. Albert Edward Payne has been opposing, and will continue to fight, organized gambling in Ohio. Albert Edward Payne received 45,000 votes for governor in the 1946 Ohio primaries. 45,000 Ohio voters cannot be wrong. Albert Edward Payne would initiate legislation to take the state sales tax off all foods and medicines.

Albert Edward Payne would initiate legislation to remove taxes from homes valued under $10,000, owned and lived in by persons over 60. This would also encourage young folks to own their own homes. Albert Edward Payne would seek to have income taxes removed on earnings up to $50 per week for persons over 60. Albert Edward Payne is a well-known, working Springfield, Ohio, manufacturer and Clark County farmer. He is 42 years of age, a widower, and has three children. He attended Wittenberg College and Ohio State University, is a Quaker, a 32nd Degree Mason, a Shriner and a Knight Templar.

REMEMBER: Albert Edward Payne needs and requests your vote for a dynamic, progressive, business government and against a state government run by party bosses for political, personal gains.

PLEASE: Clip this ad, telephone and tell your friends about it, hang it in a prominent place so others can see that YOU want good government in Ohio.

ASK: Your doctor, pastor, and your other friends if they think it is time to establish an honest, efficient, dynamic, working government in Ohio.

SUGGEST: That your voting friends cast their votes for ALBERT EDWARD PAYNE, Republican candidate for governor.

County's 36 4-H Clubs To Observe Rural Life Sunday

Units Plan Attending Churches

Idea Of Program Dates To Egypt

Pickaway County's 36 boys' and girls' 4-H Club members are expected to participate in the daylong observance of Rural Life Sunday by attending in groups the churches of their choice.

In a declaration issued by L. A. Best, county agent, and Genevieve Alley, home demonstration agent, they said, "We are urging every member of our 4-H Clubs to attend church Sunday in observance of Rural Life Sunday and 4-H Club Sunday."

Based on the theme: "Creating Better Homes Today for a More Responsible Citizenship Tomorrow," club members will help celebrate what the centuries has been Rogation Days in the Christian church.

4-H Club Sunday is an off-spring of Rural Life Sunday which was first observed in 1929 at the suggestion of the International Association of Agricultural Missions and soon adopted by other church missions and councils in America.

THE IDEA is of ancient origin. In the earliest days of Egypt the ceremony of blessing the land and the seed at the time of planting was more widely observed.

Therefore, when 4-H Club members assemble to worship on 4-H Club Sunday, they join a long succession which comes out of the dim past of history. They join with the many generations in seeking the blessing upon the land, the seed, the cultivation of the earth and the enrichment of home and community life.

In the time of world troubles abroad, the 4-H Club good neighbor pledge includes:

1. Conserve food, avoid waste and produce more.
2. Send friendly letters of cheer
